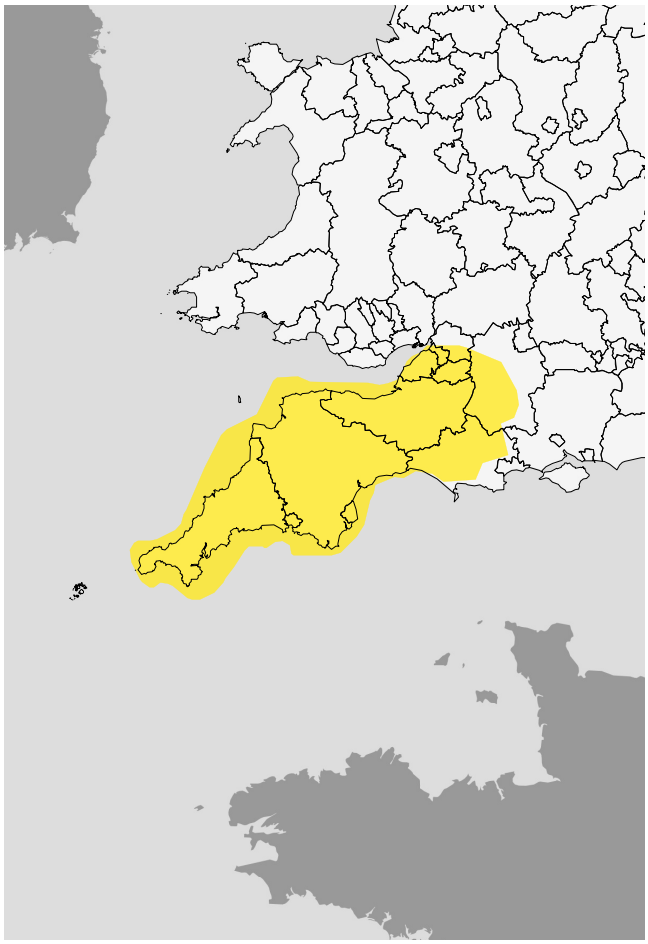
Yellow warning
Thunderstorm

Between
12:59 Thu 16 May 2024 and
20:00 Thu 16 May 2024



Scattered thunderstorms are likely to develop across the area, bringing some localised disruption

What to expect

- Some flooding of a few homes and businesses likely, leading to some damage to buildings or structures
- Probably some damage to a few buildings and structures from lightning strikes
- There is a good chance driving conditions will be affected by spray, standing water and/or hail, leading to longer journey times by car and bus
- Delays to train services are possible
- Some short term loss of power and other services is likely

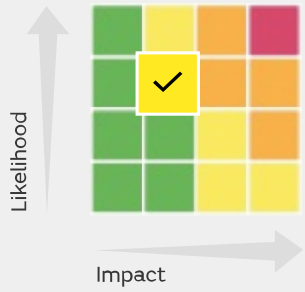
Further details

Some heavy showers and thunderstorms are likely this afternoon, lasting into this evening. Locally, 15-20 mm of rain could fall in less than an hour, with some places potentially seeing up to 30 mm in a few hours. Lightning will be an additional hazard, with a lower chance of some hail in places.

Showers and thunderstorms will die out this evening.

What should I do?

Consider if your location is at risk of flash flooding.



Medium likelihood of low impacts

If so, consider preparing a flood plan and an emergency flood kit.

Give yourself the best chance of avoiding delays by checking road conditions if driving, or bus and train timetables, amending your travel plans if necessary.

People cope better with power cuts when they have prepared for them in advance. It's easy to do; consider gathering torches and batteries, a mobile phone power pack and other essential items.

If you find yourself outside and hear thunder, protect yourself by finding a safe enclosed shelter (such as a car). Do not shelter under or near trees, or other structures which may be struck by lightning. If you are on an elevated area move to lower ground.

Be prepared for weather warnings to change quickly: when a weather warning is issued, the Met Office recommends staying up to date with the weather forecast in your area.
